Question #1: List your academic and professional credentials, specific accomplishments and volunteer activities. State why you are running and what qualifies you for this office. (100 words total)

Of course I graduated from high school with a diploma, attended one year of college and have 250 hours of flying time. More recently, I made the 40 under 40 for the State of Oklahoma in 2007 and in the same year was voted one of the most influential Oklahomans - in between Cathy Taylor and George Kaiser. We have an obligation to step up to the plate when our country needs us and right now our country is in need of honest, hard working individuals who know how to run businesses. Our country is in a crisis and we need

Question #2: What do you see as the most important issues facing your office and staff? (200 words or less)

The most important issue of course is the economy and we have to recognize there is no "silver bullet" or single candidate who can solve this problem. This is something that will take all of us making tough decisions for the betterment of our children. We have got to do things to stimulate our education system and for the betterment of our children. We have got to bring conservative values back into our educational system. If we look back on the statistics and how society has failed our children, we can go back 40 years ago when we began to remove the service word in our country by removing the draft and by letting people become a leach to life and not contributing anything. This is a mentality that is not consistent with capitalism. We have to get back to our core values that we all were put here for a purpose and everyone should be required to contribute in society even if they just volunteer at the court house to mow the lawn. All of these contributions can reduce our state burden to the taxpayers and we return to a government run by the people.
